Text of Roosevelt order in Page 19.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Three men widely experienced in the difficult and often delicate art of settling disputes between employers and their workers were appointed tonight by President Roosevelt to adjust the recurring labor controversies of the textile industry.

They were: Walter P. Stacy, chief justice of the North Carolina supreme court; Rear Admiral Henry A. Wiley, retired; and James Mullenbach, of Chicago. They also constitute the personnel of the steel labor board, named several months ago to settle employer-employee disputes in that industry.

In a lengthy executive order establishing them as a board for the textile industry, Mr. Roosevelt took the initial step recommended by the presidential mediation board, appointed to settle the recent great strike in that industry.

To Study Discrimination.

Their first task is expected to be the adjudication of numerous complaints of discrimination against strikers by employers in the rehiring of workers following the close of the walk-out.

Mr. Roosevelt had told newsmen earlier that he was investigating these alleged discriminations, but had given no indication that the appointment of the board would be announced so promptly.

Meanwhile, workers swarmed back into the mills in all sections of the industry and it was apparent that a large majority of the employers had heeded the president's urging against discrimination. Numerous mills remained closed, nevertheless, and further discrimination complaints continued to reach union headquarters here.

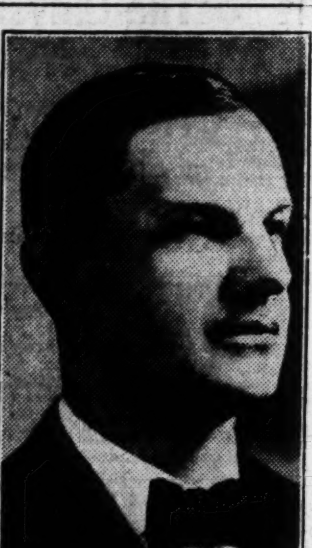

Justice Stacy is to serve only through the board's formative period, or about two weeks, during that time he will act as chairman. He has held positions on a number of arbitration boards named to settle labor difficulties.

Wiley Experienced.

Admiral Wiley also has seen extensive service in settling labor disputes on the nation's transportation system. He is a graduate of the naval academy and became commander of the United States fleet with the temporary rank of admiral in 1927. He retired from the navy in 1929.

Mullenbach has behind him a long career as a labor arbitrator, beginning at that capacity in connection with clothing trade controversies in Chicago in 1912. He is a former

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Indicted for extortion after Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh had appeared today before the Bronx county grand jury and told of his futile $50,000 ransom payment, Bruno Richard Hauptmann will be arraigned tomorrow on the charge growing out of the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby, and his attorney said, will plead not guilty.

Hauptmann will be arraigned in the Bronx county court and it is possible a date for his trial will be set. Within a week it is expected authorities will have decided whether to try the alien ex-convict on the extortion charge or extradite him to New Jersey for trial on kidnaping and murder charges.

He will be set after the plea. District Attorney Samuel Foley would not say how high a bail would be asked, but indicated it would be a stiff sum.

Police headquarters took on new activity in the case tonight as officers questioned a former welfare office prisoner arrested after an officer caught him in a public park asking alms.

They said the man, gray-haired and shabbily clad, told them that before he was arrested in 1927 he heard two men plotting the kidnaping in a New Jersey speakeasy, and that their names were "Bauer and Kaupman."

He said he now believes Kaupman to be Hauptmann.

Swiftly, dramatically, this climactic day brought forth more startling disclosures.

More ransom bills and a small caliber revolver, loaded, were found cached in secret cubbyholes of Hauptmann's garage.

ROOSEVELT MOVES
TOWARD REVISION OF SET-UP FOR NRA

President to Personally Direct Reorganization of Recovery Machinery;
Richberg Seen as Head.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—

President Roosevelt personally undertook today the guidance of NRA toward a new era of business control—a method of management by boards instead of individuals.

In the sharp contrast with the still absent Hugh S. Johnson's original swift marshalling of the Blue Eagle emergency battalion, he moved guardedly toward the goal of permanency. There was latent watch for, but no indication of whether the reshaping would be done along more liberal or conservative lines.

The White House announced today that President Roosevelt would make his promised radio talk to the nation next Sunday night at 9 o'clock, central standard time.

The subject for the talk has not been announced, but it is expected to be along the lines of previous broadcast and to deal generally with the status of the New Deal. The president is expected to talk over a nationwide broadcasting chain for about 20 minutes.

Mr. Roosevelt, within a matter of minutes after his return from Hyde Park, N. Y., told newspapermen the process was under way but that it would be evolutionary rather than sudden. Immediately thereafter he conferred at length with Donald R. Richberg, newly risen to the post of chief co-ordinator of New Deal recovery activities. The president demonstrated clearly that he would disclose the course of his newest business move only when his plans were in shape. Asked whether he would answer the recent requests for organized business for clarification of his policies on budget balancing, NRA and finances, he turned a jest. Then he added a belief that industry should exert more leadership toward the recovery goal.

As for his own anti-depression team, which he once likened to a football eleven with himself at quarterback, Mr. Roosevelt would discuss none of his projected 1934 plays. He remarked with a smile that the squad still seemed to be scoring.

Nor would he comment on the loss of that dynamo of the old first team—Huey Johnson. The president's remarks about the resigning administrator remained something of a mystery. His friends here thought he was in New York, but no one knew where. At NRA it was said he would be back at his desk tomorrow to wind up odds and ends before departing October 15.

Little Comment.

One of the points most marked about Johnson's quick submission of his resignation last night was the lack of comment by official Washington. Privately expressed theories were many, but no one seemed to know the real reason for the move being made at this time.

His fellow New Dealers had little to say even in private. Several of NRA's opponents did speak up, among them Senator Francis B. Saypol, North Dakota, who said: "There might now be a chance to revise NRA in some manner to give the small businessman a little more consideration."

Richberg, whose split with Johnson over NRA reorganization was generally considered one vital factor in the general's retirement, spent several hours with the president.

"Are you going to be the new administrator of NRA?" the Blue Eagle's former general counsel was asked.

No Information.

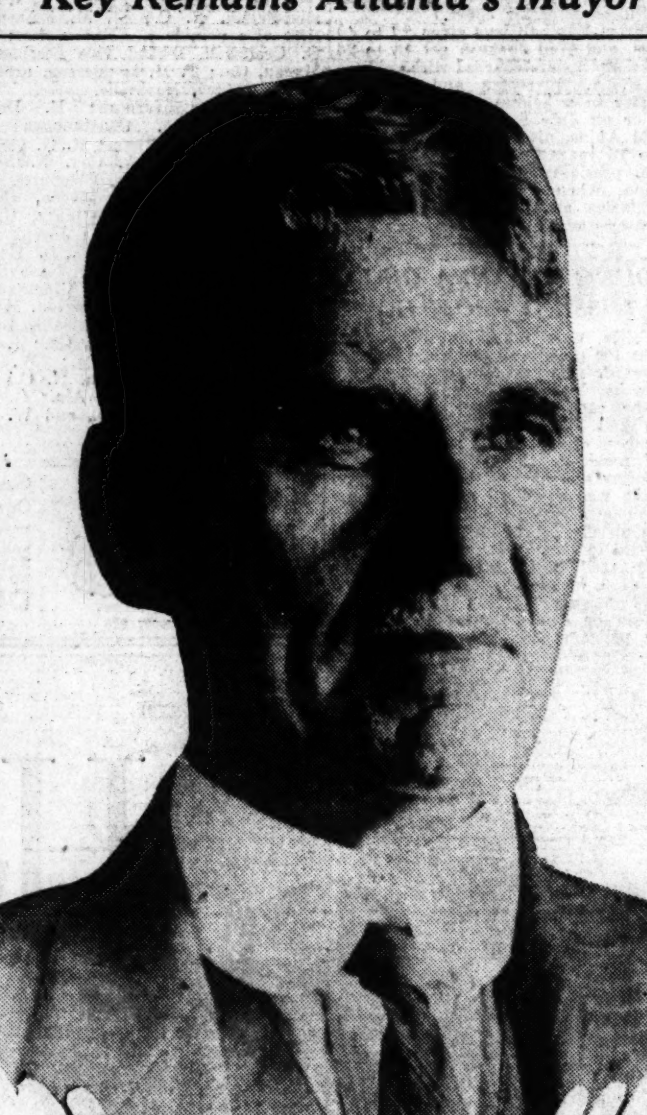

"I have no information to give," he replied.

Somewhat somber news, vital particularly in plotting the future use of NRA codes to boost employment, came during the day in a statement from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor. Unemployment was reported to have increased up to mid-August before being slackened by fall business quickening.

But the fall pickup was below last year's. Green said. Whereas 800,000 went back to work in August last year, under the stimulus of the president's re-employment agreement and Johnson's Blue Eagle campaign, the Trouble Near Rome.

Fifteen persons described by officers as "radicals" and some of them responsible for trouble at more than one textile mill in north Georgia, were held incommunicado at a secret prison Wednesday night after a raid on a mill village at Shannon, Ga.

Mill officials, who said communistic literature had been seized by the raid, reported employees began "docking" to the mill as soon as word of the arrests spread Tuesday night.

The raid was conducted by troops making up three national guard companies on duty at the Southern Brickmill at Shannon. Although most of the 2,100 soldiers called out during the textile strike have been demobilized, the state is still under martial law.

Adjutant General Lindley Camp said the men were "by far the biggest trouble makers with which the national guardmen have come in contact."

He said several of those arrested could not speak English and some of them were among the crowd which took part in a fight at Trion recently that resulted in two deaths.

General Camp declined to give the names of those arrested, where they were being held, or to explain why some of them could not speak English.

T. K. Morrison, president of the mill said the arrests "cleared up" all trouble there. Employees, he added, "flocked" back to work.

U. S. JUDGE GRANTS
TEMPORARY ORDER TO BEER DEALERS

Deaver Hears Arguments of Savannah Sellers and Restrains Collection of $1,000 Tax.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Sept. 26.—(AP)—

Challenging the validity of a $1,000 federal tax on beer and liquor dealers in dry states, a group of Savannah beer dealers today were granted a temporary order in federal court, restraining collection of the tax.

The order was made returnable for a hearing October 5 before Judge William Barrett, of the United States court for the southern district of Georgia, in Augusta.

A similar petition, on which no temporary order was granted, is to be heard in Atlanta Saturday. Beer dealers in Georgia, where certain municipalities have licensed the sale of beer in defiance of the state prohibition law, say enforcement of the $1,000 tax would wreck their business.

W. E. Page, United States collector of internal revenue for Georgia, and his deputy collector at Savannah, J. B. Dickerson, were named defendants in the case. The temporary order was signed here today by Judge Bascom Deaver, of the United States court for the middle district of Georgia, who made the order returnable for hearing in Judge Barrett's district, in which Savannah is located. Judge Barrett has been ill for several months but plans to resume his duties October 1.

Only Affects Savannah.

The restraining order affects only the petitioning beer dealers in Savannah.

The petitioners contended the $1,000 is actually a penalty, and not a tax. A similar contention was set up in the Atlanta case, in which a group of beer dealers there said the provision of the revenue act of 1926, calling for the $1,000 levy, was repealed along with national prohibition. The Atlanta dealers alleged that the $1,000 item was passed as an aid to enforcement of national prohibition and that all penalties of this nature were repealed with national prohibition.

The temporary order granted here was the first of its kind in Georgia. The petition was filed by Attorney Charles Redding, of Savannah, former United States attorney for the southern district. Redding argued the case before Judge Deaver. John J. Bouhan and S. B. Myrick, of Savannah, also were listed as counsel, but they did not appear here.

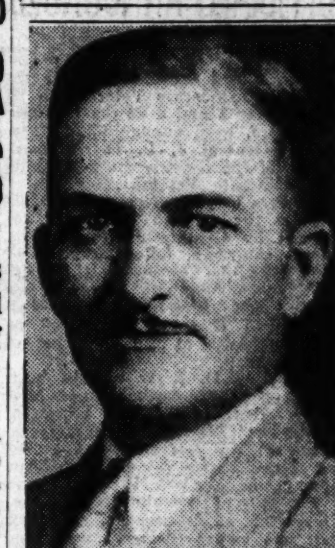

Page Has No Comment.

The Atlanta case was filed by Clint Hager, former United States attorney for the northern district of Georgia, and several other lawyers, on behalf of a group of beer dealers. Hager said the decision in the Atlanta case, if favorable to the beer dealers, would affect only those named in the petition.

Collector Page's office in Atlanta said it had not received official notice of the suit, and had no comment. Frank Boyce, assistant to Mr. Page, said that a list of beer and liquor dealers in Georgia recently had been sent to the collector's office for internal revenue for assessment, but that it would probably require about 60 days for the assessments to be made. Meanwhile, however, said collector's office is preparing a list of beer and liquor dealers for information of the federal alcohol tax collecting unit in Atlanta. Just that action this unit is to take on the list remained to be seen.

Boyce said about 100 or 150 dealers have notified the collector's office they were discontinuing sale of beer, and that Washington was being so informed. Boyce said there were about 2,000 beer and liquor dealers in Georgia.

Voters Strongly Favor
Summer Time Change and End of State Dry Laws.

Atlantans Wednesday voted overwhelmingly for repeal of the state bone-dry law, following Key's liberal views in the matter, and at the same time expressed a marked preference for establishment of daylight saving time for Atlanta annually during the summer months.

A total of 9,441 voted for repeal while only 3,737 voted against it. Daylight saving time from May 1 to September 1 of each year was favored by a vote of 7,960 for to 5,219 against on the face of unofficial returns compiled by The Constitution.

Although the repeal referendum was not more than an expression of the sentiment in Atlanta, at least for the time being, it will act, according to Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, author of the council resolution which initiated the move to repeal the bone-dry law, as a barometer for the Georgia legislature when it meets next year to pass on that question.

Alderman J. Glover Hailey, of the ninth ward, author of the daylight saving time measure, will seek to place that into operation next year, he announced after the voting.

He had petitions signed by more than 9,000 employees of Atlanta firms asking the change in time during summer months when the matter was presented to council and asserted it would mean recreation for the working man, who gets little under the present central time under which Atlanta operates.

Mayor James L. Key will approve institution of daylight saving time next year on the basis of the referendum, and it was assumed with the vote it received Wednesday.

By HERMAN D. HANCOCK.

James L. Key, Atlanta's 67-year-old political veteran, Wednesday was swept into the majority chair for another two-year term over two opponents on the face of unofficial returns compiled by The Constitution. Key already has served eight years, the equal of any other man, and the new term gives him a two-year advantage over all others.

Unofficial complete returns from the 33 precincts in the city gave Key 7,319 votes; LeCraw, youthful insurance executive and running 4,679, and J. Charlie Murphy, third contender, 2,150.

Key thus had a clear majority over the field and won his nomination without a runoff. The only other man in Atlanta's history who served eight years as mayor was James Woodward.

Atlantans also followed Key's well-known liberal views and voted overwhelmingly for repeal of the state bone-dry laws and ousted J. Ira Harrelson, president of the Atlanta board of education, as a board member from the fourth ward. W. W. Matthews was nominated.

Daylight Saving Favored.

Their vote reflected a handsome majority for daylight saving time. The vote Wednesday was approximately 14,210 votes. This is only 2,800 votes over the total qualified registration for the election, which was 17,900.

Recorder John L. Cone obtained a comfortable majority in his drive for a second term in the second division. He received 8,601 votes as against 5,625 for Robert Ben Poole, his opponent.

The fifth ward aldermanic race was won by Alderman James E. Bowden, who had 6,989 votes, as against 6,553 for J. Allen Cook.

John W. Ball Jr., running to succeed Charles M. Ford, former alderman, 3,575; H. F. (Bill) Williams, third entrant, 2,642.

There will be runovers in three of the contests if Constitution unofficial returns stand.

The tenth ward councilmanic race to select a successor to J. Raymond Curtis, resigned, produced a runover between Charles M. Ford, former councilman, who mustered 515 votes in the three precincts, and C. M. (Mac) Bolen, who got 303 votes. Sam Cohen, a third entrant, got 273 votes, while the fourth contender, C. L. Wood, mustered 145.

Runover in 13th.

Former Alderman Alvin L. Richardson led the field in the councilmanic race in the thirteenth ward against H. Parks Rusk, incumbent, but failed to obtain a majority. He got 756 votes in the three blocks, while Rusk obtained 546. H. B. Hutchins, third entrant, obtained 406.

Thomas J. Grogan and Louis Gelfon will run it over for the second ward, where education post to succeed Charles Bergman, who did not

'Queen Mary,' Largest Liner Launched as 250,000 Cheer

CLYDEBANK, Scotland, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Queen Mary, of England, defying precedent, today gave her own name to the Great Cunard-White Star liner King George described as "the state-of-the-art ship now in being."

Christened the "Queen Mary" by the queen, the 40,000-ton hull—Britain's largest—was launched today at Clydebank, Scotland, and the ceremony was one of the most magnificent in the world.

The ship is built to carry the people of two lands in great numbers, to and fro, so that they may learn to understand each other.

Police were called to the scene, and Boaz was taken to the hospital. Boaz said the car hit the tree and he was thrown out of the car. He said he was not hurt, but the car was damaged.

Woman Freed in Husband's Death Kills Two Children and Vanishes

NEWBERRY, S. C., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Annie Strauss Bizzell, 45-year-old farmer woman who shot her husband to death two years ago, killed two of her children today in what apparently was a maniacal rage and set her home afire.

Martin, 17, and Annie, 12, were the children slain. Emanuel, 15, was shot in the shoulder and arm, but fled to a neighbor's home. By the time neighbors reached the house, it was in flames. Two bodies were taken from the house.

Mrs. Bizzell was believed by officers to have perished in the flames herself, but her body could not be located. Physicians said the bodies taken from the burned house were those of the children.

Emanuel said he did not know how his brother and sister died. He was awakened about 6 a. m., he said, by his mother who shot at him twice, the shots taking effect in his shoulder and arm. He ran from the house and before he reached a neighbor's home saw his mother in flames.

Mrs. Bizzell shot and killed her husband, Tom Bizzell, on November 17, 1932, but was acquitted of a charge of murder on a plea of self-defense. For some months afterwards, she was confined to the state asylum at Columbia and then was allowed to go home.

Officers quoted neighbors as saying she had been acting strangely recently.

Emanuel said when he awoke his mother was reaching for a shotgun he had in his room and he asked her why she wanted it.

"I'm going to kill a snake in the yard," he quoted her as replying.

The boy said he told her he would shoot the snake and sat up in bed. At that moment, he said, his mother fired at him and the charge struck him in the shoulder. He rolled from the bed and crawled under it and then as his mother tried to shoot him again leaped out and grappled with her. After a moment's struggle he broke away and ran from the house.

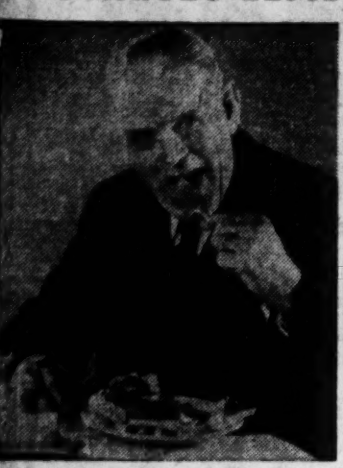

Emanuel went to Houston Long's home near by and as he reached it he found his mother's home burning.

When Mrs. Bizzell's body could not be found in the ruins of the burned home, officers began a search of the countryside for her.

Emanuel said his mother seemed obsessed yesterday with the idea that somebody was going to take her children from her and talked of this constantly.

Bizzell was a well-to-do farmer and large landowner.

YOUR VITALITY LOW? ACIDITY STARVES BLOOD

As excessive acid stomach ages many people much more than the years they live. Causes more worry and run-down bodies. Makes cheeks with yellow complexion, because a stomach which can't digest food, starves your body. And that usually means a stomach so irritated by the acidity that the activity of the vital gastric fluids has been destroyed.

Wipe that acidity out of your stomach. Months away the irritation. Then the gastric fluids will become active again. Do it with Placidin, the new preparation which you can now get at any drug store. Get a three-ounce package. Brisk some water with a teaspoonful of Placidin in it several times a day, and at night before retiring.

Notice how you will then be able to eat without suffering from gas, heartburn, sick headache, bad breath, acid indigestion. Your food will then be able to nourish you. You will feel grand. At the low, lower price, the big package of Placidin costs very little.—(adv.)

EARLY STABILIZATION OF U. S. DOLLAR SEEN

LONDON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Talk of an early stabilization of the United States dollar and the British pound was renewed today in financial quarters as a result of the decision of gold bloc nations at Geneva yesterday to work for the universalization of gold as the basis of currency.

The British, while wondering whether the French franc can long stick to its gold standard, regard the continental situation as so uncertain economically and politically that a growing belief that the dollar is the best currency to tie to is reported.

Authoritative sources considered the presence here of Professors George F. Warren and Frank A. Pearson, of Cornell University, United States currency experts, as bolstering the belief that "pre-stabilization maneuvers" may be undertaken shortly here and in Washington.

Said Dr. Luther Gable, in charge of the exhibit: "If he opens the capsule and gets it under his finger nails, he is likely to lose his hair. If he gets it in his hair, it will cause him to lose his mind in a short time. Contact with the entire supply for any length of time might cause death."

Two Days Separate Alaskan Twins' Birth

JUNEAU, Alaska, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Alfred Carlson, wife of a miner, and her twins were "doing well" today after an unusual birth case, in which the infants were born 48 hours apart. A boy was born on the morning of September 24, and a girl the morning of the 24th. Each weighed 8-4 pounds.

Farley Again Heads Party in New York

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Postmaster-General James A. Farley was unanimously re-elected state chairman of the democratic party today.

Farley, in accepting the election, told the state committee that he was doing so at the request of Governor Lehman. He had previously announced that he would retire at the end of the present term.

Farley's election came only a short time before the opening session of the democratic state convention. He was placed in nomination by James J. Dooley, new leader of Tammany Hall, and this move was interpreted as an indication that Tammany was definitely in accord once again with President Roosevelt and Farley.

Norma Millen Given Sentence of One Year

DEDHAM, Mass., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Norma Brighton Millen, 19-year-old former clergyman's daughter and bride of a convicted machine gun slayer, was sentenced today to one year in the house of correction on one indictment. The other two indictments were filed. She was convicted as an accessory in the murder of two policemen and the robbery of a bank.

She will be eligible for parole in six months. Judge Nelson P. Brown said when that time came, he felt she should be paroled. He said he did not think there was any further punishment that could be meted out by the court.

He added she had been punished enough but, for her own protection "against exploitation" he thought she should go to jail until she was "no longer a matter of public concern or public interest."

JURORS ARE SELECTED TO TRY EATON SLAYER

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 26.—(AP)—A jury composed of 11 businessmen and one minister was selected today to pass upon the guilt or innocence of Frank Martin, trusty convict and guard, who is charged with first degree murder for the slaying last July 12 of Helen Spence Eaton, notorious woman convict, as she escaped her fifth escape from the state farm for women.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Lawrence Auten demanded of the jury either the death penalty or acquittal for Martin, who as a convict serving 21 years for murder, was assigned as a special trusty to guard the girl prisoner, who also was serving two sentences for murder.

Martin, appearing in court with his aged father and his 5-year-old son, pleaded not guilty to the charge.

WINTER FIGHT SEEN ON JOB INSURANCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Coming clashes in congress over social legislation were foreshadowed today sharply divided opinions encountered by experts who are gathering data for the president's committee on economic security.

Varying viewpoints already have developed in consideration of old age pension plans. Unemployment insurance now finds at least two clearly defined camps.

One holds for a system of individual plant reserves built up in prosperous times to tide workers over depression; the other contemplates a national fund of the European brand.

Under the first, each company would be required to set aside money for distribution among its own employees. Under the second, nationwide contributions would be received and disbursed by one agency to meet employment needs wherever they arose.

Secretary Perkins is chairman of the president's committee. Today he reminded that the committee is preparing legislation for the next congress and said it should include "not only a form of job insurance, but income insurance, but old age benefits as well."

The committee is to meet early next week to survey the work done thus far.

In its job insurance plan the committee has another knotty problem to answer—whether business alone, business and government, or business, government and workers should bear the cost.

NEGRO HIDDEN TO BALK SOUTH CAROLINA MOB

FLORENCE, S. C., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Roosevelt James, 25-year-old negro, charged with an attempted attack on a young white woman, today was being held in an undisclosed prison where he was spirited late yesterday after signs of high feeling developed.

The alleged attack occurred September 17 and James was arrested Monday night, but the fact was not generally known until his removal to the undisclosed prison.

IL DUCE MOVING WOMEN WORKERS BACK INTO HOMES

ROME, Sept. 26.—Premier Mussolini today began his campaign to escort women from the mill back to the kitchen.

The gradual exodus of female workers from the ranks of industry and commerce is designed by the fascist state to solve the male unemployment question and at the same time increase the population.

Definite orders were issued by the government today that the number of women admitted to examination for state and semi-state jobs be sharply reduced.

The fascist textile federation, meeting under the presidency of Bruno Bini, undersecretary of corporations, ordered that "to meet the demand of male employment," men shall form a minimum of 30 per cent in the weaving branch of the industry. Women now form as much as 90 per cent of the total employed in the textile trade.

It was expected similar percentages soon would be made to apply to other branches of the textile industry.

NRA LOSES IN TEST OF CODE AUTHORITY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The NRA today lost its first attempt to keep a company charged with code violations from going over its head to the federal trade commission.

The commission denied the Blue Eagle agency's motion for dismissal of an appeal by Edward J. Ramsey and others, shoe manufacturers, and announced it would hold hearings soon upon the complaint. Had it granted the motion, the appeal would have in effect been quashed and the manufacturer forced to abide by the decision of the code authority.

The shoe manufacturers are accused of granting discounts to wholesalers and jobbers in excess of the 5 per cent limit under the boot and shoe code.

INSURANCE LAUDED AS BEST INVESTMENT

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Paul Spitzer, managing editor of Insurance R. & R. Service, Indianapolis, asserted today that life insurance offers the only type of investment designed to provide income in old age.

Explaining nothing what he may say is to be interpreted as an attack upon any type of financial institution, Spitzer delegates to the forty-fifth annual convention of the National Association of Life Underwriters "the only plan long enough to reach from youth to old age is the life insurance plan."

"Bonds, stocks and other types of investments will not solve this problem because they have not been intended to solve it," he added.

ACCIDENT TAKES LIFE OF LIONS CLUB LEADER

HENDERSON, N. C., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Irving L. Coe, 55, Johnstown, Pa., past president of Lions International, died in a hospital here last night from injuries suffered in an automobile wreck near here Sunday.

WILLIAM H. ECHOLS DIES OF HEART ATTACK

UNIVERSITY, Va., Sept. 26.—(AP)—William H. Echols, for nearly half a century head of the school of mathematics at the University of Virginia, died last night of a heart attack at his home on East Lawn.

MRS. SOPHIE COOLEY NATCHITOCHES LA.

NATCHITOCHES, La., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Sophie Bell Cooley, widow of Captain Leverette Cooley, former noted Mississippi river steamboat pilot and owner, died here Tuesday.

WILLIAM KNIGHT MERIDIAN, Miss.

Meridian, Miss., Sept. 26.—(AP)—William Jackson Knight, 59, who left home on a squirrel hunt and returned later to get an axe to chop down a tree which he chased a squirrel, was found dead hanging over a barbed wire fence a short distance from his home. Death resulted from a heart attack, a coroner's jury held.

HENRY BURROWS, ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Henry Burrows, 80, veteran of the War Between the States, died here Monday at the Soldiers' Home hospital. Mr. Burrows was born in Canada and entered the local hospital two weeks ago, coming here from Zephyrhills, Fla.

CAPT. LAWRENCE MOSELY, RAIFORD, Fla.

RAIFORD, Fla., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Captain Lawrence E. Mosely, in charge of all guards at the Florida state prison farm here, died at his home last night after an illness of about two years.

He was born at Adel, Ga., 49 years ago.

Hauptmann Indictment Misspells Lindy's Name

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The name of America's most noted flyer is spelled "Lindbergh" in the official copy of the indictment charging Bruno Richard Hauptmann with extorting $50,000, it was disclosed tonight.

The single exception was the first reference to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in the second paragraph, in which the name was spelled correctly.

Bronx county officials declined to comment.

GOVERNMENT DEFICIT PASSES $500,000,000

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The government's expenditures today brought the deficit since July 1 above the half billion mark.

Treasury figures for September 24, the latest date available, showed a $512,000,000 excess of out-go over income.

Emergency expenditures of $782,000,000 came near the total revenues of $274,000,000.

Of these revenues, $122,000,000 were derived from processing taxes. The out-go for the farm administration was $76,000,000, leaving $446,000,000 of revenue which is to be paid out later.

Also included in the revenue was Emergency Expenditures of $782,000,000 Use Nearly All of Revenue.

Canadian Youths Given Lashing for Gas Theft

PORT COLBORNE, Ontario, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Theft of gasoline in southern Ontario is almost as serious as pirating a cargo in the north, declared Magistrate J. C. Masala in court today as he sentenced two youths to 10 strokes of the strap for taking gasoline from the automobile of W. H. H. Finch, justice of the peace, of Kenmore, N. Y.

The deficit compared with an excess outgo of $202,000,000 at this time last year. Revenues for the comparable period a year ago were $353,000,000 but they included $31,000,000 of processing taxes and an insignificant amount of seigniorage.

AGED TEXAS COUPLE PERISH AS HOME BURNS

ATHEENS, Texas, Sept. 26.—(AP)—W. T. German, 73, and his wife, 75, were burned to death when their home, near Stockard, eight miles west of Athens, was destroyed by fire last night.

Japanese Seamen Call General Strike

KOBE, Japan, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A strike which threatened to tie up Japan's largest steamship lines, including trans-Pacific ones, was ordered today unless the companies accept demands of the seamen's union.

Higher wages, better rations, larger crews and special wage scales for engine room crews are objects of the proposed walkout.

If all union members obey the call, their leaders estimated 1,230,000 tons of shipping, belonging to nearly every major line in Japan, will be affected.

This "Magic Brain"

CREATED BY RCA VICTOR

outperforms everything you've ever known in Radio

An exclusive RCA Victor development

- (1) You hear every tone with higher fidelity
- (2) You reach far more stations
- (3) You tune in world broadcasts with far greater accuracy and ease
- (4) You get the exclusive RCA Victor "X" band*

YOU can hear whatever is being broadcast from the popular stations in London, Yokohama, Buenos Aires... or any important city on earth! You can tune in as easily, as accurately as your favorite nearby station.

This now because of RCA Victor's "Magic Brain". It outreaches, outperforms anything RCA Victor has done in the past... bringing a new excitement, and a new higher fidelity tone to all-wave radio. It's thrilling, indeed!

What the "Magic Brain" you see on the right does, is simple. Its action is so lifelike, we show it as in a human brain. It directs—by means of four extra tuning coils and an advanced frequency stage—the selection and the reception of world-wide radio broadcasts. Thinking for you... it brings you the program you want. It makes the rest of the radio more perfect in performance... makes tone of higher fidelity. Noise is less. Buzz and fuzz go. Instead is balance, rhythm, precision.

As an added attraction, these "Magic Brain" sets offer the exclusive RCA Victor "X" band... enabling you to get up-to-minute government weather reports—the same that aviators hear!

Another surprise comes in the cabinet beauty. Created by a leading modern designer, built in America's finest cabinet factory, they will delight your eye, suit your home.

A radio and a price for everyone!

RCA Victor Instruments priced from $22.50 to $399.95, complete, installed, including Standard Receivers, Auto Radios, Air-Cell Battery Radios and Radio-Phonographs. HOUSING ACT PUTS JOBLESS TO WORK

Hundreds of Atlantans
Benefit Through Loans
on Local Homes.

Fifteen hundred and seventy-six unemployed men in Atlanta's building industry this morning are at work or preparing to start on jobs made possible through the federal housing act, it was learned Wednesday.

A total of 197 loans have been made in Atlanta to date for repairs and other work around homes here. The average loan comes to $380, for a total of $74,860.

Building contractors who have gone over the loans are estimated the amount of work to be done said that from eight to nine men would be given a week's work on each loan job. It was estimated that the men and their families benefiting would total 6,450 persons, in addition to much needed repairs being made to almost 200 Atlanta homes.

Atlanta compares favorably with other cities in the United States as concerns low building costs, according to studies made by E. H. Boeckh and associates, consulting valuation engineers of Cincinnati.

The studies made by the Boeckh organization use as a base the average of prices existing in the United States during the period 1926-1929.

Frame residences in the Atlanta area, according to the report, were 71.5, or considerably below the index figure for 1926-1929 as of June, 1934. Other city areas were listed with a higher index. Baltimore area, 85.5; Boston area, 95.0; Chicago area, 94.7; Cincinnati area, 89.6; Dallas area, 90.2; Detroit area, 82.1; Minneapolis area, 93.7; New Orleans area, 77.0; New York area, 102.9; Philadelphia area, 87.0; Pittsburgh area, 84.3; St. Louis area, 100.7; San Francisco area, 86.8, and the Seattle area, 78.8.

The figures of all areas, however, show a tendency to rise. The Atlanta section during 1933 had an index of 64.6 for frame houses, in January, 1934, it was 68.4, and in June, 1934, 71.5.

Index numbers for all kinds of construction in the Atlanta section as of June, 1934, were:

Brick residences, 77.3; Apartments, Hotels and Office Buildings—Brick and wood, 75.4; brick and concrete, 83.9; brick and steel, 83.2.

Commercial and Factory Buildings—Frame, 69.8; steel, 91.2; brick and wood, 79.4; brick and steel, 86.1; brick and concrete, 87.1.

Information contained in the Boeckh report substantiates the statement of W. W. Winter, chairman of the Atlanta Better Housing Campaign, that material prices are below the average of previous years.

The Atlanta Better Housing Campaign, being conducted by prominent Atlantans and all the civic organizations in the community. By this campaign the property owners will be given information on the methods of obtaining loans ranging from $100 to $2,000 under the provisions of the federal housing act, and asked to make needed repairs and modernization.

BROTHER OF BURNS FILES $250,000 SUIT AGAINST FILM FIRM

HACKENSACK, N. J., Sept. 26.—

(P)—The Rev. Vincent G. Burns, Palisade pastor, announced last night that he had mailed to the Bergen county clerk's office here papers in a suit asking $250,000 damages from Warner Brothers, motion picture producers, for alleged defamation of character.

Mr. Burns is a brother of Robert Elliott Burns, one time member of a Georgia chain gang who escaped and was captured in New Jersey. A book, written by the fugitive, was made into a motion picture. In the film, Mr. Burns alleged, a minister was shown as responsible for his convict-brother's youthful mistakes.

Robert Elliott Burns was arrested in Newark about two years ago. At a hearing in Trenton Governor Moore declined to honor extradition papers sent here from Georgia.

HOME FOLKS PLAN ROUSING WELCOME FOR 'MISS GEORGIA'

College Park, the tranquil home community of suburban Atlanta, Saturday night will throw off its cloak of conservative culture and, with less dignity than usually is associated with that city, will welcome home a queen, its favorite daughter, Miss Josephine Bowling, who Tuesday was crowned "Miss Georgia" after winning that distinction in a field of 20 Georgia beauties.

Plans were being completed in College Park Wednesday night for a celebration and reception which Mayor E. D. Barrett believes will convince "Miss Georgia" that her home town is mighty proud of her and thoroughly appreciative of the honors she won and the glory she reflected on College Park.

A motorcade of more than 200 automobiles, appropriately decorated and led by a motorcycle escort of mounted policemen from College Park, East Point, Hapeville and Atlanta, will meet the train which will bring "Miss Georgia" back to Atlanta about 7 o'clock Saturday night. The Russell High school band, 400 students from the same school and hundreds of others will be at the station to meet Miss Bowling, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Bowling, of 207 West Rugby avenue.

The new Georgia queen is one of four daughters and has two younger brothers. She is prominent in social affairs in College Park, particularly at the G. M. A. proms, and her chestnut brown hair, brown eyes and even white teeth have won much favorable comment on her beauty.

EMPLOYER LIABLE FOR MAN'S WRONG, APPELLATE RULING

If an employee commits a wrong while in the discharge of his duties, his employer is liable, even though the wrong was wilfully committed. The ruling was handed down Wednesday by the Georgia court of appeals in the case of the American Surety Company against William G. Cook, a case which had been appealed from the Atlanta city court.

Cook sued the surety company for $1,000 damages on the grounds that a collector for the company kicked in a screen door and forced his way into the Cook home and then cursed Cook in the presence of his wife in an effort to collect borrowed money.

TWELVE ARRESTED AFTER BURGLARIES

Four Prisoners Show Recent Buckshot Wounds on Bodies.

Police arrested 12 persons Wednesday on suspicion of burglary and larceny. Four of the prisoners were found to have been wounded with buckshot believed to have been inflicted when they attempted robbery of a freight car.

Two men who gave the names of J. P. Spain, 24, and B. W. Richards, 25, both of Decatur, Route 2, were arrested by detectives when they attempted to deliver 80 cases of eggs and 20 cases of butter to a produce company on Piedmont avenue. Officers said the produce, valued at about $1,000, was stolen early Sunday from a Tennessee Butter and Egg Company truck.

Five negroes who said they were Nathan Wood, 18, of Biggers street; Willie Giles, 18, of Biggers street; Grady Henderson, 18, of Dillon court; Hubert Almond, 21, of Smith Bottom, and Johnny White, 18, of Gilmer street, were taken into custody on suspicion of robbing freight cars in the railroad yards near Oakland cemetery. All except Almond had been wounded recently with buckshot, and police said Almond admitted robbing the box cars and implicated his companions. Railroad officers shot at a group of negroes in the yards several days ago, it was said.

Radio Patrolmen C. F. Wright and O. W. Allen, with other officers, captured three negroes in the act of breaking open a safe at the Linen Service Company, at 275 Houston street, early Wednesday. Those held on "suspicion" and charged with attempted safe robbery, gave the names of Julius White, 18; his brother, Augustus White, 20, both of Angier avenue, and Homer Powell, 15, of Fort street.

The policemen saw a broken window in the linen service company and caught the three negroes in the building. The outer door of the safe was already open and burglar tools and a gun lay about. Several shots were fired at the negroes by the officers but no one was hurt.

Officers captured a negro who gave the name of Luther Cook, 17, of 275 Walker street, early Wednesday after he had burglarized three houses on Hill street and led them a chase of more than a mile.

Mrs. R. L. Brownlow, of 507 Hill street, was awakened by a burglar in her room and screamed. The man jumped out the window and Mrs. Brownlow called police. Fifty-eight seconds later Patrolmen Sexton and Sewell were pursuing Cook and arrested him a mile away.

Mrs. Brownlow identified a wrist watch found on Cook as having been stolen from her room, while Mrs. B. E. Nash, of 503 Hill street, said $3 and a pair of socks Cook had belonged to her home, and Charles Baldwin, of 605 Hill street, identified a pocketbook in Cook's possession as having been taken by a burglar from his residence. Mrs. Nash was awakened by Mrs. Brownlow's scream and she saw Cook jump from the window, she said. She identified him as the one who ran from her neighbor's house.

Allegedly attempting to twist the lock off a grocery store door at Woodward avenue and Pryor street, J. P. Murray, who said he was 32 and from Fitzgerald, Ga., was arrested by Patrolmen M. M. Coppenger and J. T. Mitchell. He is held on "suspicion."

McNEAL LEAVES HOME TO CAST KEY BALLOT

Walter S. McNeal Jr., chairman of the zoning subcommittee of the city planning commission, Wednesday left his home for the first time in over a month to cast his ballot for Mayor James L. Key.

McNeal is recovering from a severe attack of intestinal influenza. He and Mrs. McNeal today will celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of their wedding. "I don't want pearls"—that is the anniversary jewel she said. All I want is for Walter to get well.

She was formerly Miss Myrtle Hume. The marriage took place September 27, 1904, in Houston, Texas.

RE-ELECTION EXPENSES OF YEOMANS $3,112.25

Attorney-General M. J. Yeomans Wednesday filed his expense account showing $3,112.25 was spent in his successful campaign for re-election in the September 12 primary.

Yeomans defeated Howell Cobb, of Albany.

Of the total amount spent by Yeomans, his report showed that $350 was contributed by each of the following assistant attorneys-general: John T. Goree, B. D. Murphy, D. M. Parker and J. J. E. Anderson. State Senator Charles D. Redwine contributed $500.

T. G. Head $100, S. L. Anderson $200 and M. S. Yeomans, state entomologist, and son of the attorney-general, $100.

DAHLIA SHOW PLANNED HERE ON OCTOBER 5

Atlanta's first citywide dahlia show will be held October 5 at the Biltmore hotel. Flower lovers from all over the state are expected to attend and to contribute exhibits, Lee Ashcraft, widely known Atlantan, announced Wednesday.

Mr. Ashcraft said Atlanta grows fine flowers but has never exhibited them as have many northern and eastern cities.

"Through the activities of the Dahlia Society of Georgia, we hope to make this show an outstanding civic enterprise which will attract visitors here from many sections," he said. He urged that as many exhibitors as possible be placed in the show.

RAMSPECK TO CLOSE OFFICE TO OCTOBER 15

Offices of Robert Ramspeck congressman from the fifth district, in the old postoffice building will be closed until October 15, he announced Wednesday.

"Due to the fact that the rooms occupied by me in the old postoffice building are the permanent quarters of the United States circuit judges, it is necessary for me to close my office temporarily," Ramspeck said.

"The circuit court will be in session until October 13, and I shall reopen my offices at 335 old postoffice building on October 15. In the meantime persons wishing to communicate with me can do so by mail at Post-office Box 1118, Atlanta, and their requests will be given prompt attention."

FOUR DIE IN FLAMES AS AUTO HITS BRIDGE

PALMERTON, Pa., Sept. 26.—(AP) Four persons were burned to death today and two others were injured in the crash of their automobile against a bridge at nearby Aquashicola during a heavy fog.

The dead were Mrs. James Heydt and four-year-old son, of Walnutport; Leland Folleweiler, 28, of Annandale; and Willard Green, 26, of Palmerton.

Hollywood is any small city enlarged beyond all proportion for the wish to look into the glare. There is the same pettiness, stupidity, vanity, chicanery and rapacious ambition in other towns, but no one sees except the persons immediately concerned.

The town of Hollywood is not a town for whatever is cheap or tawdry within its boundaries. It is the spot where again, the magnifying glass is turned upon the subordinate public interest which is in grotesque exaggeration, like the funny mirrors in amusement parks. And the spotlight and

MORE PACKING FIRMS ANNOUNCE WAGE HIKES

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—(P)—Seven packing firms, six in St. Louis and one in Alton, Ill., have announced wage increases which approximately duplicate the 8 per cent average increase put into effect by packing firms in Chicago.

The St. Louis firms giving the increases are Key Packing Company, Hill Packing Company, Siefert Packing Company, Laclede Packing Company, J. H. Bels Provision Company, and the Satorius Provision Company. The Alton firm is also raising wages. All increases are effective October 1.

SLIGHT DROP SHOWN IN ELECTRIC OUTPUT

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(P)—Electric power output last week totaled 1,630,947,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 1,635,983,000 the previous week, the Edison Electric Institute reported today.

This was a decrease of 0.5 per cent from the production for the corresponding week of 1933.

Ringworms on Face. Could Not Sleep At All. Cuticura Healed.

"Ringworms began in little pimples which started to itch and, after scratching, broke out in sore eruptions. My face was sore and badly inflamed and I could not wash it without hurting. At night it would itch and burn so I could not sleep at all. The breaking out caused disfigurement and lasted for about four years.
"Then I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment and my trouble was better in a week. After using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed in one month." (Signed) Miss Mollie Wiseman, 285 Watson Ave., New Albany, Miss., Feb. 19, 1934.

The mayor is nominated for a new two-year term; aldermen and the recorder for four years; council and board of education members for three years each.

Tabulation of Votes.
Tabulation of votes will take place at noon today at the city hall, it was announced by James T. Osburn, chairman of the city democratic executive committee.

Key, who waged his campaign for renomination on the strength of his record during his four-year term as alderman, was nominated for a second term. He asked voters to ratify his battle to maintain the city's credit and to send him a council which would co-operate with him.

He appealed to the "good sense and fine discrimination of the voters, with whom I have always come clean and who have always come clean with me."

J. Ira Harrelson, president of the Atlanta board of education, lost his fight for renomination as the fourth ward member of the board to W. W. Matthews, publisher of a weekly newspaper.

Matthews got 375 votes as against 324 for Harrelson.

Harrelson charged his defeat to Key in the following terse statement: "I heartily congratulate Mayor James L. Key for causing my defeat by a vote of 54 in my ward and thank the loyal supporters of the public school system who voted for me."

Murphy issued a statement admitting he was out of the running. "I am very grateful to my many loyal supporters who so tirelessly and courageously supported me in my fight against insurmountable odds," Murphy said. "Their friendship is more highly valued than the office I sought."

Although Murphy lost the mayoralty nomination, he will retain his position as alderman from the eleventh ward. His term expires in January, 1936, but he must run in the primary next year if he wishes renomination.

The target-like insignia were worn by the gunners on their arm bands, to designate them apart from the rest of the engineer regiments.

Kidnap Symbol's Source Traced to German Army
DRESDEN, Germany, Sept. 26.—(UP)—The insignia in the shape of a target, or bull's-eye worn by machine-gunners with the Saxon engineers in which Bruno Richard Hauptmann served in the World War, may have suggested the strange symbol used in the Lindbergh kidnaping notes, it was indicated by inquiry here today.

The target-like insignia were worn by the gunners on their arm bands, to designate them apart from the rest of the engineer regiments.

It was conceded generally that if Key carried the fourth ward, which also is his home ward, that Harrelson would be retired as a member of the board. Key got 444 votes from the fourth ward boxes; LeCraw 207, and Murphy 52.

Mayor Key, veteran campaigner and one of the most honored men in Atlanta's history, seeking re-election, was opposed by LeCraw, youthful insurance executive, prominent in civic affairs, who launched his first political venture in a drive for the mayor's office. During the latter stages of the campaign he gained much ground.

The third entrant, Alderman Murphy, of the eleventh ward, is himself a veteran campaigner. He has served 10 years as a member of the council. He is a former mayor pro tem. He is an attorney and has been active in local political circles for many years.

Four Unopposed.
Judge A. W. Callaway, of the first division of the recorder's court, and Alderman Guy Coleman, of the first ward, were insured new four-year terms without opposition. J. H. Landers, first ward board of education member, and Ed S. Cook, who held the same post from the third ward, got new three-year terms without opposition.

Mayor Key Wednesday night expressed his gratification at the handsome majority he received.

"I have been honored as no other man has been by my fellow citizens," Key said. "That in itself is a responsibility. In all my service, I have dealt honestly and fearlessly for what I believed to be the public good. I shall continue to do so and I shall the co-operation of Atlanta which they have announced through the ballot box they will give me to make Atlanta an even greater and more attractive place in which to live.

Fifth Ward Alderman

JAMES E. BOWDEN.

"The vote given me Wednesday is an indication that my economy efforts have been ratified. I have been vindicated in my place in which to live."

It is impossible for me to say how much I appreciate the trust imposed in me. I wish to take this opportunity to thank the hundreds of persons who worked so tirelessly and faithfully in my behalf. It was a job well done. I am grateful."

Key announced that if he obtained a good majority he would demand some resignations in the school department or "know the reason why I do not get to sleep."

It is anticipated that he will lose little time in seeking the resignation of Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta schools. He also will be in a position to force certain economies he has insisted upon in that department. During the campaign, he assailed what he termed extravagance in the school department.

In a survey he had made of the schools, he recommended saving of $800,000 a year, but the board of education failed to act upon the economies thus recommended.

He sought abolition of the visual education and testing and guidance departments, cutting the kindergarten term to half-time instead of for a whole term, and other economies.

None were made effective. W. W. Matthews and John Ball issued statements thanking the voters: "I wish to take this opportunity to thank those who so graciously supported me and to pledge my best efforts towards a business administration of school affairs," Matthews asserted.

"It is with gratitude that I learn of my nomination," Ball said. "I shall do my best to merit the confidence shown in me and wish to take this opportunity to thank all those who supported me. I will do my best for all the citizens of Atlanta at all times."

ANN STEPS OUT

By MARGARET GORMAN NICHOLS

Final Installment.

Angela got up with that sweeping grace of hers, walked to a cigarette tray and munched out her cigarette. "The view is beautiful this time of the night," she said to Doug.

"I was thinking the same," he said and smiled at her.

Nick, watching them go past and out to the veranda, wanted to cry out, "Angela, don't do it! Don't hurt her this way! Don't disillusion her!" But he said nothing and gave no warning because he hoped and believed now that Angela was right.

They stayed out there a long time and no word passed between Nick and Ann. Nick saw the expression on Ann's face. It was not an expression of jealousy. It was rather a hopeless look. She got up, slim and straight, and took a step toward the door. Nick could not restrain himself. With a pained look on his brown face, he put out his hand to stop her.

"Don't," he said.

Ann did not feel his touch nor see him. She went to the door that led out on the veranda. Nick could not see her face but he saw the quick intake of her breath, the tension in her body.

Ann saw Doug—and in his arms Angela—their lips pressed together. Ann could not move. She could say nothing. She did not cry.

She didn't know that it was the death of love.

She felt no anger toward Doug or toward Angela; she knew after a moment that she felt nothing. No feeling—no hurt, only a wounding of pride and a kind of self-pity because she had been so wrong.

It was not the kiss. It was not finding him with another woman, but seeing him like this, she saw other unfaithfulness, other women with their heads on his shoulder as Angela's was now.

Doug released Angela and Angela saw Ann. Then Doug turned and saw her, too.

"Ann..."

Saying her name—once it had stirred her. It had brought her to him whenever he needed her. Now it was an empty, meaningless thing that came from his lips.

"Ann... please..." Doug's voice, imploring.

Nick was beside her. Curiously, she had reached forth her hand and Nick had been there to take it—a gesture more significant than words.

Nick, there, beside her. That was right. That never failed. Nick, beside her, tall, distinguished, Nick with brown eyes and tanned face.

Doug stepped forward into the light. "Ann, forgive me," he said. "It wasn't anything. It didn't mean anything..."

"You told me," said Angela, ready and willing for Ann, for Nick's sake, "that it meant a great deal to you."

Ann lifted her hand. "What does it matter?" She looked at Doug and said, not unkindly, "I saw how wrong I've been about you. You didn't come back humbly after Gail left you—to me—Ann Dryden. You came back to Ann Hamilton, a new girl, you thought, a girl with money. I'm not a new girl. I'm the same. But money blinded you. It was between us. We could never have been happy with that between us."

"Please..." said Doug.

Ann smiled.

"I was willing, knowing that everything was against me, to marry you because I believed in you. Now I don't believe in you. Nothing you can say or do will make me believe. It isn't your kisses toward me, Angela. It's coming out here—seeing a woman in your arms. I knew then it would be only the beginning of many stolen kisses for you."

Her voice was not shrill or angry. It was low and even and controlled.

"Won't you let me explain," asked Doug.

"Explain kissing Angela?" she asked, mocking him, wondering why she felt absolutely nothing toward him, wondering why she had ever loved him, believed, waited, despaired for him. It doesn't need an explanation. I don't blame any man for wanting to kiss Angela.

"You mean," he asked, "we're through? You mean you won't marry me now?"

"Oh, I see. You think I'm not good enough for you—for Ann Hamilton. That's a laugh, all right. What did you use to be? John Hamilton's stenographer, a girl who wasn't anything, who didn't have anything, a girl who was ashamed to ask to my college dances? But you're Ann Hamilton now—and the Hamiltons head to you—even the old lady herself."

"This won't help you," said Ann. "It will only make us bitter."

"I'm not good enough!" he cried in the tones of an outraged child. "I'm no pauper, even if dad did make his money during the war—the Hamiltons probably call him a profiteer. There are still plenty of girls willing to take a chance with me." He strode out by her. "I'm leaving and I'm taking my car. You can get back to town the best way you can, Nick."

He gave Nick a quick, cynical glance.

"Will take you back—one Hamilton to another."

He went out and slammed the door. When Ann turned, Angela was nowhere in sight.

"Where is Angela?" she asked.

They walked back into the room again. "Angela went away," he said. "I heard her leave in my car. Ann, this was Angela's trick. Now she's gone away, back to New York, to marry Ronald Farber, an old admirer of hers."

"A trick? Oh, I see. I thank her for it. It was that that made me see him as I should have seen him years ago—weak, without strength. Nick, I've been so blind, so wrong! I've given so much to the wrong man."

She sat on the cushion before the fire and ran her fingers through her hair.

Nick stood over her.

"It was funny," she said, "the way everything became so clear—like a revelation. Everything was blurred before—like trying to walk up a dark street. Doug is gone and I feel nothing. No anger, no hurt—nothing."

"Perhaps I shouldn't tell you this Nick. Perhaps I haven't the right. But when I reached out my hand tonight for you, for something to hold onto, and you were there, there, tall and strong, I had the same feeling that I used to feel with Doug. I've been fighting something I've wanted for a long time. I don't know why. I know now," her voice was again like that. "I know now—that all the time I've loved you."

He came down on his knees beside her on the soft rug. He put his arms around her. Ann put her face close to his.

"One night you kissed me," she said, "and it was a kiss I never forgot. I tried to forget it but it always stayed with me. Nick—kiss me again like that."

He kissed her full on the lips and held her close.

"I've been so wrong, so foolish, like a groping child," she said, "but the price won't have to be paid now."

"You'll marry me, Ann?"

She nodded. Her eyes were clear. Her face smiling. Not even the memory of Doug remained.

"I'll marry you," she said, "in the morning."

In the morning, he thought. In the morning they would go to town and be married quietly as Jean and Dick had done. Then they would catch a train to the New Hampshire mountain lodge. In the morning the rain would be gone, and the sky would be bright again.

He held her close and put his cheek against hers.

"In the morning," said Nick. (Copyright, 1934, by Margaret Gorman Nichols.)

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

INDIAN PICTURE-WRITING. The other evening, while I was sitting beside an open fire with my niece, Doris Mae, I showed her how the bark from birch log could be peeled off, strip after strip; and I told her that some of the woodland Indians had used birch bark as paper in past times.

An Indian grave-stone. Note figures upside down.

"What did the Indians use for writing on the bark?" I asked. "Berry juice was the common 'ink' of woodland Indians. It was placed on the bark with the help of a finger, a stick, a piece of bone or a brush.

The brushes were crude, usually being simply a reed, a piece of bark or a twig which had been chewed or rubbed at one end to divide the fibers. Some woodland Indians made pictures on bark as a means of giving a message to other members of their tribe. It was their custom to picture white men like Indians, except that a hat was placed on the head of each white man. To picture a white soldier, a musket was added. Three pictures of men with hats and muskets, and two pictures of men without hats, would mean, "A party of three soldiers and two Indians passed this way."

Indians of the plains sometimes kept records on the inner surface of a buffalo hide. "Year records" were made, a picture of some important event—such as a great snowstorm or a battle—standing for a certain year. Other Indians north of Mexico made pictures on grave-stones. The figures told the tribe of the dead man, his clan and perhaps his name as well. Thus a picture of a fox would show that he had belonged to the fox clan of his tribe. The fox, like the other figures, would be upside down, as a sign of death.

In Mexico Central America and Peru, the art of picture-writing came to the highest point among the Indians. When Spaniards entered Mexico, they found that the native Aztecs had made many written records. The Aztecs had no alphabet, but they kept calendar records, with a special picture for each day of their 20-day months, and had a system of number writing. They also made pictures of their gods, and records of tribute taken from tribes which the Aztecs had conquered.

Debutantes Announce Dates, Plans For Presentations to Society

Presenting a particularly brilliant fall season in Atlanta, a number of members of the recently-organized Debutante Club have announced interesting plans for their formal bows to society and additional debut parties are announced today.

Miss Deas Smith and Miss Laura Troutman will be central figures at the party to be given in their honor on Christmas afternoon by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Y. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Troutman.

Miss Mary Spaulding Dean will be formally presented to members of the market contingent at the afternoon reception to be given by her mother, Mrs. Frank S. Dean, on November 14. The Piedmont Driving Club will be the scene of the tea-dance at which Miss Ann Boyd Croxton will be presented by her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Edwards, with whom she is spending the winter season.

Miss Ellen Rhodes will make her debut at the open house to be held by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Rhodes, at their home on Brighton road, on December 22, when they will introduce their daughter to their circle of friends. In the evening Miss Rhodes will be central figure at the dance to be given by her parents at their home, the guests to assemble members of the younger contingent.

Mrs. W. F. Eve will present her daughter, Miss Grace Eve, at an afternoon reception on December 19 at her home on Inman circle.

Mrs. Dean Entertains At East Lake Club.

Mrs. George C. Dean was hostess at a bridge party yesterday afternoon at East Lake Country Club. Autumn flowers were effectively used to decorate the club, with a color motif of yellow being used. New Margin Rules Date Is Postponed 15 Days

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(UP)—A 15-day postponement in the effective date of margin requirements under the stock market regulation was agreed upon today at conference between the federal reserve board and members of the securities exchange commission.

The margin restrictions, under the act, were to become effective on October 1.

A two-week extension was decided upon yesterday to give operators an opportunity to study the requirements which are expected to be announced within 48 hours.

The securities commission said it had ample authority under the law to delay the effective date of the margin figures.

A preliminary draft of the requirements was referred today to a committee composed of members of the treasury, reserve board and the securities commission. The committee will meet tomorrow and is expected to report out the final draft Friday.

Answer: A young woman who is dependent upon her parents for support may have to accept the law that she cannot marry until she is 18 years of age, but when she is well established in her career, presumably she has age and judgment enough to make her own decisions without reference to her parents' protest. Some great Englishman remarked that fine social background was unquestionably an asset to a man but that he had never heard a man boast about his social position. If a man accomplished anything in life or had any other justifiable cause for personal pride, so it is in America. A man's a man's man, and if his character is above reproach, if he is an upstanding man on his own account, humble origin won't keep him from getting on in life nor keep him out of the circle of his manhood and moral equipment entitle him to move in.

Of course it is true that a man may be so far separated from a woman in breeding, in tradition, and therefore in manners and habits of life, that they find it very difficult to adjust themselves to each other in marriage. But the very fact that they are drawn to each other with irresistible force shows that there is a common meeting ground for them. If they have the will and the patience to find it, a lady married to a man who has no regard for the niceties that mean a great deal to her, to a man who humiliates her, can lead him to observe these amenities she counts important. When the child-dream comes there may be another source of embarrassment in the realization that her children are the direct kin of a family she has looked down upon and despised. She can no longer set her face to herself that she has no connection with the family that she only married the flower of a flock with whom she need have nothing to do. She is then bound to them through her children, bound with blood ties.

A sensible woman must consider these things before she makes her decision as to whether or not she will marry a man she loves in spite of his humble origin. And having answered the questions to her own satisfaction she should have to be swayed by the prejudice of her parents against a man simply because he is not in their social class. She isn't going to live with her parents, but with the man she marries, and he suits her the least they can do is keep quiet.

Things That Make Women More Beautiful

You Might As Well Start Bleaching So You Will Have a White Christmas

1. If you'd like, after a hard season in the woods and at the beach, getting thoroughly softened and whitened, I can tell you a fine line to take in dictation more than ever. They gave it in their old days of independence.

2. There is another new trick to bring to a close the feud between them. Maybe I have never had the awe and respect for the so-called stars that I should have had. At any rate, following have played in the individual master's should give me a lot of company in that school of thought. I would be willing to wager that in the average Atlanta tournament 80 per cent of the North-South players would reach at least a small slam and probably several would get to a grand slam.

Yet out of the first five tables to play this hand, but one pair, Mrs. Robert Fuller and George Under, reached a small slam. They bid it in diamonds and, of course, made it. Other results were three contracts of four hearts and one of five hearts. In each of these instances seven hearts were made.

Burnside and Waldman von Zedtwitz made one pair which only reached four hearts on the hand.

Here it is.

Our friends, Billy Barrett and Jeff Glick, did well in the master's team-of-four. Billy's team reached the semi-final and Jeff's foursome went to the final.

Here is a hand in which Johnny Rau, Billy's partner, attempted a smart lead, which resulted in a 450 swing for the Glick team, the outfit that beat Billy's team.

Frank and Glick, sitting East and West, respectively, and Hynes and Watson, also sitting East and West, got to three no-trump on this hand, the no-trump in both instances being played by the East hand. Rau opened the three of spades against Frank. Frank didn't try the diamond finesse in the play, but kept the queen of diamonds in the dummy to provide an entry to make the queen of clubs. Frank made the heart at the other table. Hall opened the ten of clubs against Hynes. The queen from dummy was not played, and the hand went down one. The three no-trump is a fortunate bid and could not be made at all if the hearts were not blocked in the South hand.

T. GRANT LEASES STORE IN ORLANDO

ORLANDO, Fla., Sept. 26.—The W. T. Grant Company, operating 1 cent to $1 department stores in 30 states, has leased the theater and store property at 33-35 South Orange avenue and 1-13 East Pine street, Orlando, Fla., and will open one of its stores here in the late fall. The property has been leased for 40 years. The owner is remodeling the property according to W. T. Grant's specifications. Approximately $30,000 will be spent in modernizing the property which faces 50 feet on South Orange avenue, runs 11 feet along East Pine street and, in addition, has a 12 foot by 52 foot lot.

Culbertson on Contract

By ELY CULBERTSON.
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Playing for Average.

Although it may sound absurd on the face of it, quite frequently a player's course of action can be influenced by the ability and the type of game played by another player at another table. This situation often occurs in team-of-four matches. Often the declarer is confronted with two different lines of play and really has no way of deciding which one to adopt.

An experienced tournament player will realize, if the hand is not particularly unusual, that this same hand will be played at the identical contract by a player of the opposing team when the board is played the second time. If the player is not able to get any indication as to which way of making possible plays to choose, he will, if he knows the game of his opponent who will sit in the identical seat at the other table, try to imagine which play this other party will adopt and then adopt the same one. This is based on the theory that matches are won not by playing to create unbalanced swings but by playing for an average result or to achieve part on each hand.

If you do this throughout a match and never make any mistakes, you are almost certain to come out ahead at the finish—with your margin of victory depending upon the amount of errors the opponents make.

On today's hand, which took place in the quarter-final round of the knockout tournament of the Astor Club, the South player reached a grand slam contract and was faced with the age-old problem of what to do about the missing queen of trumps. He had absolutely no way of making up his mind, but realized that the member of the other team who would subsequently hold the same hand, one who practically never finessed with nine trumps missing. Accordingly, he played for the drop—and, as it missing queen, succeeded in capturing the North dealer.

Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding followed more or less conventional lines. The final seven-spade bid was only a slight gamble, as the four-five no-trump convention had located the necessary key cards and the only possible holding which North could have which would not give South some sort of play for the hand was one which included the ace and two small hearts.

West made the harmless opening of his fourth best club, and the ace in dummy won the trick. The spade jack was now led. East played small, and the declarer went up with the king. He returned to dummy with a heart and now led another spade. At this point with no adverse bidding and nothing particularly unusual about the North and South distribution to either confirm or deny the probability of one of the opponents holding a singleton spade, South might have tossed a coin mentally to decide what to do. But his decision, as mentioned above, was influenced by a personality at a table at the other end of the room. Fortunately for South, the South player at the other table was one with whom he had previously played in a great many games. Remembering those games that the other South player had practically never took a finesse if it was ever so slightly against the percentages, South decided to play for the same result as would be obtained on the other table, as by this means, though he might not gain, he could not lose. He went up with the spade ace and dropped the queen, and then was able to spread the hand. Incidentally, South's deductions were correct. Seven spades were bid and made at the other table because the South player, as expected, dropped the spade queen. Neither team gained any points on the board, but had either of the declarers elected to play for the finesse, a huge swing would have resulted.

Giants Lose, 5-4, But Hold Lead as Cards Bow to Pirates 3-0

PURPLES MEET AGGIE ELEVEN HERE TONIGHT

Teams Open Prep Week at Ball Park at 7:45 O'Clock.

By Roy White.

Prep football activities will be shored into high gear at 7:45 o'clock tonight at Ponce de Leon park when Red Barron's Monroes Aggies play Boys' High. It will be the first of three games here this week as the high school teams complete the third week of the 1934 schedule.

G. M. A. and Russell will follow at 8 o'clock Friday afternoon, while Tech High and Benedictine, of Savannah, complete the card at 8 o'clock Friday night at Ponce de Leon park. Marietta, Fulton, Commercial and Druid Hills play Friday afternoon out of town.

Tonight's game will be the first for Barron's eleven and the third for Boys' High.

A GOOD START.

The Purples got away to a good start in winning from Commercial, 41 to 0, and came back with another fine exhibition to win from Decatur, 31-4.

Rudy Atkinson, the veteran Purple backfielder who missed the Decatur game because of guard duty with the national guard during the textile strike, and Jimmy Brooks, alternate captain and guard, have returned to the squad and will be ready for duty tonight. Brooks suffered an injury in the Commercial game and was not used against Decatur.

And with Atkinson and Brooks back into the lineup, Boys' High will be materially strengthened and will be tough to get along with. The Purples, with their veteran backfield and capable replacements in the line, should not be extended to win from Monroe tonight.

The remainder of the Boys' High backfield will be Cumber at quarterback, Gerhardt at halfback and Brander at fullback. The line will consist of Captain Jones at center, Brooks and Richards, guards; Turner and Mount, tackles; and Trash and Anderson, ends.

FIGHTING TEAMS.

Red Barron has always turned out a fighting eleven at Monroe and the 1934 eleven is no exception. He has several veterans returned from last year and the vacancies have been filled by capable candidates. But the Aggies will be handicapped by lack of experience.

Riddick, center, and Golightly, tackle, are two outstanding linemen, with Slayton, Scott and Black expected to bear the bulk of the Monroe backfield burden.

Duck McKee, Cracker outfielder, returned to Monroe Monday and has been working out with the Aggie line since that time. He was the Aggie line coach last year, but has not had time to accomplish very much in the three days with the squad.

The Aggie line will consist of Mitchell and Mize, ends; Sprayberry and Golightly, tackles; Dillard and Powell, guards, and Riddick, center. In the backfield Scott will direct the team at quarterback, Black and Slayton will play halfback and Fontaine will be at fullback.

Smithies Work For Benedictine.

Tech High will hold its hardest workout of the week this afternoon in preparation for Benedictine Friday night. The Savannah team has many of its last-year players returned and is pointing to the Smithie game for one of its victories.

G. M. A., Russell End Hard Work.

G. M. A. and Russell High closed up on their practice Wednesday and will hold long signal drills today in preparation for Friday afternoon's game at East Point.

The Cadets ran into an upset by Commercial last week and will be anxious to square the count Friday.

Russell, like Commercial in the North Georgia interschool conference, would like nothing better than to defeat the Cadets. And Russell has a chance to upset G. M. A. Friday.

DOWN the ALLEYS

Ball System employees will discard their office duties and make their way to Bick's bowling center for the opening of the Bell System Ducky league this evening at 7:30 o'clock and the league will be one of the largest to bowl this season.

Ten five-men teams will make up the roster of the league and, if last season is to be an example of the rivalry and interest that will be shown this year, the loop will be second to none in enthusiasm.

W. F. Oliver is president of the league; H. L. Philter is vice president and statistician; W. L. Brock is secretary.

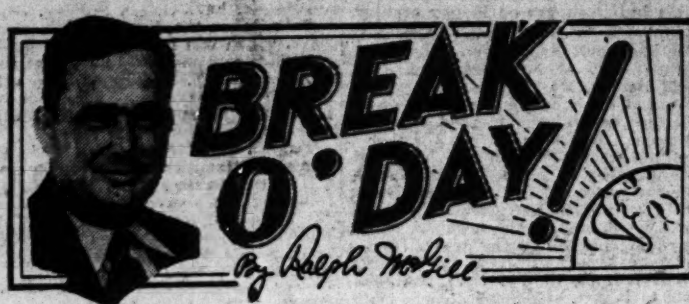

The Dixie Tenpin league will hold its final meeting at the bowling alleys tonight at 8 o'clock, and all team representatives are urged to be in attendance.

Officers of the league are R. H. Handley, president; O. M. Barnett, vice president; L. H. Metcalf, secretary-manager.

Teams from Independence, Eastern Air Lines, Georgia-American, Chevrolet Motors, Decatur, Gulf Refining Company and White Provision Company are expected to complete the roster of the league.

Tech, Georgia Tickets on Sale

Football tickets for Saturday's games at Athens and at Grant field are on sale in Atlanta. The Georgia-Steuben tickets may be obtained at Rich's from Yank Ludwig, former Georgia center and now an employee. The Georgia Tech tickets are on sale at Mize's. Tech plays Clemson, Choice tickets are on sale at each location.

The Mad Hatters From Stetson And Cadets From Clemson Are Next!

From a close perusal of the newspapers it seems to be assured that on Saturday afternoon at Athens the Georgia Bulldogs will meet the Mad Hatters from Stetson and the Georgia Tech Phillips-less Jackets will meet the Clemson Cadets from Clemson.

These will be two very good football games. The Jackets will not be at their full strength and their co-ordination will not be at its best. The same goes for those Bulldogs.

The Mad Hatters from Stetson will be rather rugged. In fact, there is some basis for Mr. Harry Mehre going around fearing Stetson. The Georgia coach has always had trouble with his hats. They lose their shape and they leak when it rains and all that sort of thing. When he heard he and his team had been signed to meet the Mad Hatters he was upset even then.

I have just been reading Alice in Wonderland again and I find that the original Mad Hatter was quite a person. He was always having the last word, was the Mad Hatter. And if he keeps on having the last touch-down it will be very bad.

I would not attempt to deceive you. I think the Bulldogs will chew up the Mad Hatters rather expertly. The Georgia Bulldogs should be quite dangerous this year. But meeting the Mad Hatters from Stetson does contain an element of danger.

The waterboys had best go into hard training for the remainder of the week because the calls for liquids will be frequent. It is pretty sure to be hot as blazes on Saturday afternoon at Grant field and at Sanford stadium.

The weeks will take wing now. In just a short while it will be November and the losing coaches will be frying in the pan.

THE 24-YEAR-OLD KISS.

Colonel Dan McGugin's announcement of his intention to retire from active coaching at Vanderbilt after this, his 30th season as head football coach, and assume the position of athletic director, has brought forth a flood of stories.

At a radio program in his honor a couple of days ago, Colonel McGugin confessed to thousands of radio listeners that in 1910 he had kissed a strange lady in the Yale bowl with thousands looking on.

"We had just tied Yale's great team, 0 to 0," he said, "and as the people ran on the field a lady came up to me and said she was from Nashville. I was so happy I kissed her."

Mrs. McGugin was present and she said: "Well, Dan, I suppose I should be furious about you kissing strange ladies, but as this was 24 years ago and in front of all those thousands at the Yale bowl, I suppose it couldn't be serious."

But shucks, I recall seeing Colonel McGugin grab a big, husky lady and lead the grand march with her at a ball given the Commodores in 1924 at Minneapolis when they had defeated the Minnesota eleven, 16 to 0, the week following the Minnesota victory over Red Grange and his Illinois eleven.

This lady, too, said she was from Nashville. As I recall, they had some beautiful young thing selected but when the big lady announced she was from Nashville, she was led out to the ballroom floor.

The Vanderbilt people were rather steamed up over that victory of 1924. It followed a tie with Michigan in 1922 at Nashville and a 3-to-0 defeat at Michigan in 1923.

The Minnesota people had kidded Fielding H. Yost, then coach at Michigan, at the winter meeting following the 3-to-0 victory of Michigan.

"Yost," said the Minnesota people, "you were just being kind to your brother-in-law, weren't you?"

"Yeah," said Yost, "and I'm so tired being kind to them I'm going to let you be kind to them next fall."

Vanderbilt won, 16 to 0. Ted Cox, now coach at Tulane, was a tackle on that Minnesota team.

And the big fellow at New Orleans always enjoyed the victories his Green Wave won over the Commodores.

The abdominal laugh, however, is Colonel McGugin's confession of the 24-year-old kiss in the Yale bowl.

OUR TWO POPULAR CLUBS.

Old Joe Fan is a sentimental person and it was very interesting indeed to read yesterday just how he had shown his great and undying admiration for Bill Terry and his Giants and how over in St. Louis there was a great demonstration for the Cardinals.

The Cardinals and the Giants are at what the boys call death grips in the National league pennant race. They are not really gripping one another but they are theoretically at death grips. There were but two games separating them when they entered their respective games in their respective home parks yesterday.

The New York fans showed their great love and enthusiasm for Bill Terry's Giants by turning out a mob of almost 5,000 in the Polo Grounds. That many people in the Polo Grounds would be quite lost and might be taken for the boys cleaning up the stands were they not huddled together.

This in the heat of the hottest race baseball has seen in years, mind you, and in the greatest center of population. And over at St. Louis there were about 7,000 out to see the Cardinals.

It was a very touching illustration of the devotion of Joe Fan and the esteem he feels for those two teams as they struggle in their death grips. There are plenty of reasons for his very earnest staying away from the park.

The World Series will draw. Especially if the Cardinals win. Everyone likes the Detroiters and they want to see Schoolboy Rowe. And if the Cardinals win they will want to see the two Dean boys pitch.

The series will draw. But there will be a lot of enemies made. The owners are refusing to sell one reserved seat. The customer must buy them in blocks of three. This cuts out a lot of regular fans who can afford to see but one of the high-priced series games.

Yet you will find the owners wondering what is the matter with baseball and why the fans don't get excited as they once did.

BASEBALL FANS HAPPY.

Baseball fans are happy as Mayor James L. Key, my favorite mayor, comes through with a splendid indorsement of himself and his policies from the voters of Atlanta. The mayor gave them Sunday baseball and they appreciated it. The city has not suffered at all because of the games. The mayor has done a great job.

BULL DOGS STOP STETSON'S PLAYS IN SCRIMMAGE

Georgia To Polish Off Heavy Work Today for Opener.

By Bill Ray.

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 26.—The Georgia Bulldogs held the Red Devil squad at a standstill today as they worked on defense against the scrubs, who were imitating the plays of the Stetson Bulldogs.

Tomorrow afternoon the last long scrimmage of the week will be held before the varsity meets Stetson Saturday. Offensive play, a department which has caused the Georgia coaches a great deal of worry, will be the phase dealt with in the scrimmage.

Coach Harry Mehre, usually a pessimist where his own team is concerned, was pleased with the defensive work of the varsity players this afternoon. "They looked good on defense," Mehre said, "with a great deal of emphasis on the prefix 'de.'"

Using the unbalanced line formation that Stetson employs, the Red Devils were unable to gain over the varsity. Two defensive teams were used and each one kept the scrubs fighting but not gaining.

Leroy Moorehead, star Georgia guard last season, was at guard on the Red Devils this afternoon as he took part in his first scrimmage. Reporting over three weeks late, Moorehead is getting an enforced two weeks' stay with the scrubs until he can get in shape.

The tackling of the linemen and the pass defense of the backs was outstanding today as time and time again the ends smashed down the scrubs' ballcarriers before they could get to the line of scrimmage. Not one pass was completed over the alert varsity backs.

Two Atlanta boys, Ana Candler Jr., right end, and Harry Harman Jr., right tackle, both of whom belong to the reserve class, were making hard tackles on the line of scrimmage. Julius Caesar Hall, another sophomore tackle, was also getting in for his share of the tackles.

Before the scrimmage, Backfield Coach Rex Enright, had the ballcarriers working offensively against the ends in an attempt to teach them coordination in their running and interfering.

Grant, who has been out with a sprained shoulder, was in full uniform today, but he did not take part in any of the scrimmaging.

DOG SHOW HERE ON FRIDAY NIGHT

The annual dog show, sponsored by the Atlanta Kennel Club, and sanctioned by the American Kennel Club, will be held Friday night at 8 o'clock at H. G. Hastings Company, Mitchell at Broad. Entries for this show may be made today by calling Miss Ardenne Kewin, 1015 E. Lake road, or on Friday at Hastings.

All purebred dogs of breeds recognized by the American Kennel Club over three months of age that have never won a purple winner's ribbon at the Atlanta Kennel Club championship show and dogs that have won a blue, or first prize ribbon are eligible to compete. There will be four classes, three to five months to eight months, eight to 12 months and over 12 months. First, second and third prize ribbons will be awarded in each class. There will also be a special award for the best dog of the breed provided there are three or more dogs of the breed entered. Cash will be awarded for the best dog in the show.

MARION ENTERS AUTO RACE HERE

Milt Marion, St. Albans, N. Y., sportsman and one of the most colorful figures in auto racing, is coming back to Lakewood mile oval during the Southeastern Fair AAA speed events next Wednesday with vengeance in his eye.

Forced to run fifth here July 4 against such track stars as Lloyd Vieaux, Johnny Sawyer, Chester Gardner and host of others, because his machine was powered by one of the smaller type Miller engines, Marion is out to redeem himself next Wednesday, and will bring two of the 220 type Miller racers, one of which will be driven by Claude Burton, also of Indianapolis Speedway experience.

Alpha Class Plays Cartersville Today

The girls' baseball team will invade Cartersville, Ga., this afternoon where they are scheduled to play the Cartersville Mills in the first of a two-game series. The Atlanta team will leave Wesley Memorial church at 1:30 p. m.

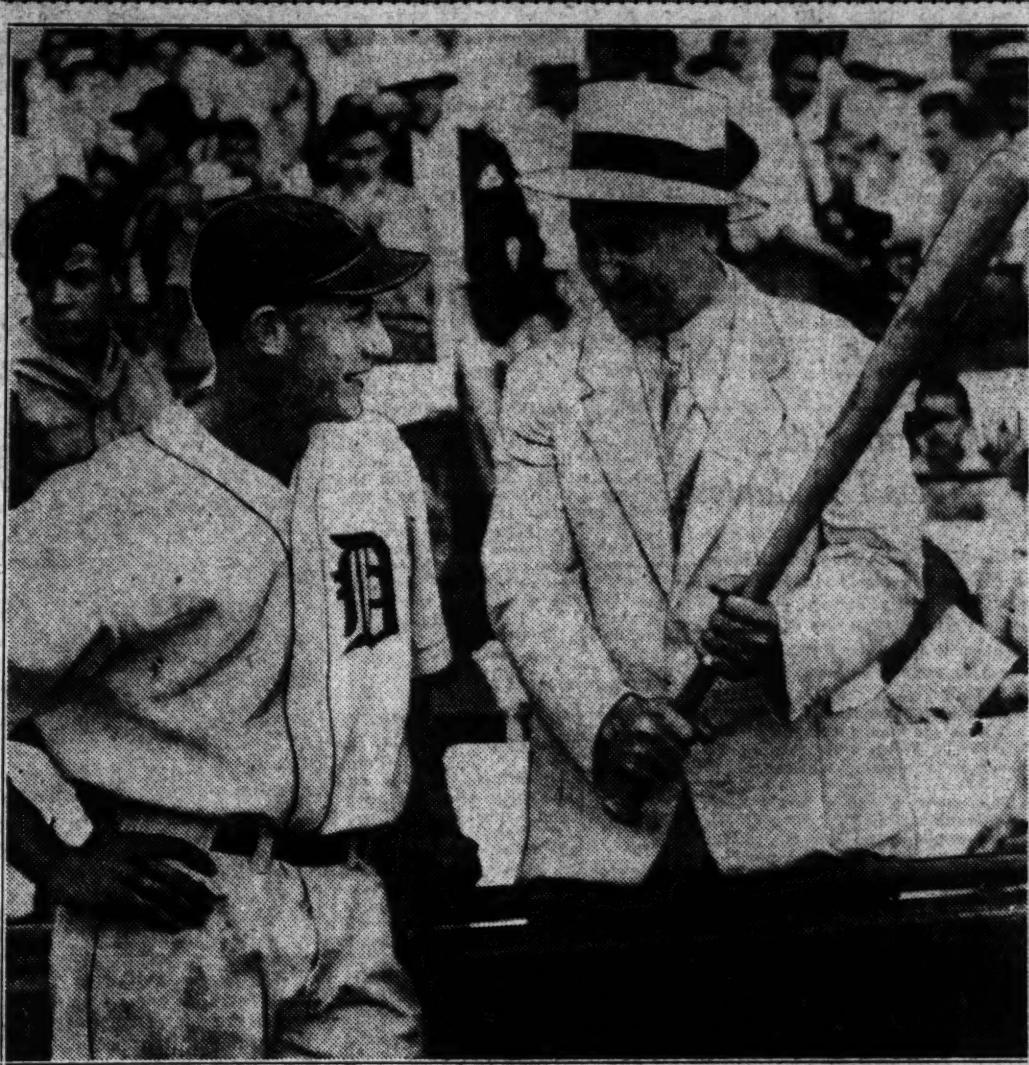

Nephew of Ferst Reports at Tech

Another member has been added to Georgia Tech's "second generation" of famous football players. His name is Bobby Ferst, nephew of Frank Ferst, Tech's great quarterback, who was a member of 1919-1920, and a son of Monie Ferst, who was a player at the state back in 1909.

Young Ferst, a stockily built kid, has just reported for Mack Tharpe's freshman team. He is a halfback now, but Mack may make a guard out of him.

Tech's varsity and freshmen squads are now generously sprinkled with sons and brothers of former illustrious players. There are the varsity squad, for example: Ernest Tharpe, halfback, brother of Mack and Bob; Luther Drennon, guard, brother of Raleigh; Gene Gardner, tackle, brother of George Gardner; "Milt" Fitzsimmons, tackle, son of Foster Fitzsimmons; young "Twenty Per Cent" Drennon, end, son of original "Twenty Per Cent"; Jimmie Moore, son of "Scrappy" Moore, and Bob Matthews, guard, whose dad also played at Tech.

One Georgia Peach to Another

In the World Series of 1909, Ty Cobb, the original Georgia Peach of big league baseball, played centerfield for the last Detroit baseball club to win a pennant. Twenty-five years later, oddly enough, another Georgian, Joyner White, a College Park boy and former Tech High athlete, is about to appear in the World Series of 1934 in the same position for the Tigers. In the photo above, Cobb, now a retired businessman, is shown in the act of imparting a few of his famous batting tricks to young White on a recent visit to Detroit, where he saw the Tigers perform.

DOROTHY KIRBY LEAVES TODAY

Dorothy Kirby, Atlanta's 14-year-old golfing sensation who sprang a surprise in winning the state championship a year ago, will leave today for Philadelphia where she plans to compete in the national women's tournament.

Miss Kirby, youngest player to wear the state crown, outclassed a representative field of veterans in the title event last year, triumphing in the final over Margaret Maddox, of Atlanta, who had ruled Georgia golfers for several years.

Miss Maddox also plans to leave tomorrow to participate in the national tournament, which is to be held next week over the White Marsh Country Club course at Chestnut Hill, near Philadelphia.

In the party accompanying Miss Kirby will be her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Kirby, and Howard Beckett, Capital City Country Club professional, who has coached the young golfer since she first wielded a club.

After the national tournament, the two Atlanta golfers will return and begin practice for the annual Georgia women's golf championship, to be held the week of October 13 on the Radium Springs course at Albany.

Beckett has expressed confidence Miss Kirby will make a good showing in the national tourney. "She has been hitting her shots well and scoring in the low eighties," he says.

MORRIS BROWN PLAYS AT MACON

Morris Brown College, undefeated in 1933, will open the football season in Macon today when they meet the Fort Valley Normal and Industrial Institute at Centennial stadium, at 3:30 o'clock. Fort Valley, also undefeated last year, will open the season with a game at Macon which will be a "must" for Chief Aiken Clark's charges last fall.

Morris Brown suffered heavy losses from graduation but Coach Hicks, Warren, Smith and Spurlock have every way look capable of taking care of themselves. The Atlantans will leave by bus this morning and the game will be played at 3:30 p. m.

While the baseball records show that White was born in Union City, N. J., in 1909—the year Detroit won its last pennant—he was reared in Georgia and learned all his baseball in this state, which practically makes him a native.

King Double Winner; Ashby Taylor Departs

By Jack Troy.

Members of the Capitol Gun Club aren't selfish, in any sense of the word, but they do, nevertheless, regret the promotion that has taken away Ashby Taylor, one of the greatest sportsmen extant.

There was to have been an "Ashby Taylor day" at the Capitol Gun Club this week. Plans for the day were being formed. But yesterday Taylor and his attractive wife departed for Baltimore, where they will take up future residence.

The rather hurried departure was in answer to the demands of Taylor's boss with the insurance company which he represents. So the day's loss to the club was a heavy one.

Just to show it was no mistake, King went out and beat the field for the regular Wednesday afternoon. He had a score of 55-50 with handicap. He actually broke 48, which is no piker shooting.

Jake Orr was runner-up in yesterday's program with 50. Other scores: Ralph Minahan, 49; Jack Tway, 49; Buddy Jones, 48; Charles Nunnally, 47; Jack Gray, 47; Jimmy Calhoun, 47; Tom Canessa, 46; Ed Moore, 45; and Larry Grant, 40.

Dates for the fall festival trapshoot have been moved up a week to October 18-19-20. And the southern states skeet shoot has been set for October 20-21, Tway announced.

New Georgia 'Peach' Reminds 'Em of Cobb

Jo Jo White, Former Tech High Athlete, Makes World Series Debut Next Thursday.

By Jimmy Jones.

"It doesn't seem so long ago," mused the gentleman from College Park (Ga.) "that I saw the kid lugging bats to and from the dugout for our team in the Suburban league. He was just a little shaver then, but now when I see him written up in all the papers, I can hardly believe my own eyes."

The gentleman from College Park was referring to Joyner (Jo Jo) White, the young man from College Park who plays center field, and a very good center field, for the Detroit Tigers, who have just clinched the American league pennant and are now standing by to engage the National league champion (whoever it is) in the opening game of the World Series, which is to be played in Detroit next Thursday.

Some of the boys around here who profess to know all about it are making light wagers that the flaxen-haired boy from College Park will be one of the stars of the series, the kind of surprise package that "Pepper" Martin, of the St. Louis Cardinals, was to the Philadelphia Athletics in the series of 1931.

The College Park fan, who doesn't care for the mention of his name, bases his prediction on the fact that Jo Jo White has always been what is known as a "take a chance" player, a great competitor and as daring on the bases as the daring young man on the flying trapeze. He likes nothing better than to pop up with some base-running stunt that sets the crowd agog and the opposing infield crazy.

GEORGIA PRODUCT. Anyhow, it is very cheering to have a Georgia boy in the World Series and playing for the Detroit ball club. For not since Ty Cobb, the original Georgia Peach from Royston, played for the same team in the series of 1909 has Crackerland been so wrought up over the chances of the Tigers.

"Jo Jo" White, as they call him up there, is a popular figure in and around Atlanta. In the first place, College Park is a suburb of Atlanta and in the second place young White was a star athlete at Tech High school, where he was a third baseman on Gabe Tolbert's baseball club and a crack forward on the Smithies' basketball team.

Furthermore, Joyner White broke into professional ball with the Carrollton (Ga.) team in the Georgia-Alabama league in 1928, so he is essentially a Georgia-born product, just like Georgia cane syrup, Georgia yams and Georgia corn.

While the baseball records show that White was born in Union City, N. J., in 1909—the year Detroit won its last pennant—he was reared in Georgia and learned all his baseball in this state, which practically makes him a native.

ATLANTIC STEEL WINS OPENER, 3-0

Atlantic Steel Company won the first game of the final series of the City league Wednesday at Ponce de Leon Park, 3 to 0. Mayo hurled for the Pirates and struck out seven and gave up just five hits.

Spradling, Cox and Spurlin made catches of balls that looked like sure outs. Spradling, Cox and Spurlin made catches of balls that looked like sure outs. Spradling, Cox and Spurlin made catches of balls that looked like sure outs.

These two teams will play again Friday at Ponce de Leon park. The Pirates will play the second half of the City league. Steel Plant won the first half, and if they win this time they will be the champions.

Final results in the golf tournament sponsored by the American Institute of Banking, are ready for publication with the completion of the last match yesterday. Tom Griner, of First National, was medalist in the tournament.

The final matches saw Josh Davis, of the Citizens and Southern bank, win the title flight from Charlie Edwards, of the First National.

The results were: Josh Davis (First), defeated Charlie Edwards (First), to win the championship flight by a score of 3 and 1. J. A. Bennett (C. & S.), won the second flight by a default from W. B. Black (First).

Bob Blitchcock (C. & S.), defeated A. McCarry (Federal), 2 up to win the third flight. J. N. Lyle (First), won the fourth flight by defeating Jack Walker (C. & S.), 7 and 6. Gus Mitchell (Federal), won the fifth flight from E. F. Jones (Federal), by a score of 1 up.

C. C. Christian (First), defeated H. M. Kelly (First), 1 up to win the sixth flight. J. Ashby (Federal), defeated Ward (C. & S.), 5 and 4 to win the seventh flight. J. Ashby (Federal), won the eighth flight from Vick Varnadoe (Federal), by a score of 6 and 5.

Olympic Committee Accepts Invitation

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(UP)—The American Olympic committee, after listening to a two-hour report by Avery Brundage, president of the Amateur Athletic Union, decided tonight to accept the invitation of Germany to participate in the 1936 Olympic games at Berlin.

DAFFY DEAN ROUTED; HOYT IN FINE FORM

Gives St. Louis Two Hits, Phillies Lead Leaders in 11 Innings.

By Jack Cuddy.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(UP)—Chances of the St. Louis Cardinals wrestling the National league pennant from the New York Giants were lessened considerably today when both clubs suffered setbacks in the hair-raising stretch battle of the third inning race at Circuit City.

Bill Terry's World Champion Giants maintained their one-game lead over the Cardinals when the Giants lost to the Phillies, 5-4, and the Cards muffed a solid opportunity to forge ahead by losing to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 0.

These twin reversals left the pennant-hungry Cardinals in the unhappy position of being forced to win twice as many games as the Giants in order to tie the New York for the flag. The Cards must sweep their remaining games with Cincinnati in order to deadlock the Giants in the final standing, if New York takes its two remaining games with St. Louis.

FINAL STANDINGS. In that case the final standing would be:

New York W. L. Pct. St. Louis 86 58 .621 If the Cards now lose out in the pennant race, and the percentage is very much against them, veteran Wally Horn, who was called off for four major league clubs before landing with the Pirates on January 21, 1933, will be regarded as the man who handed the Cards their first defeat in the pennant race.

The former "Schoolboy Wonder" blanked Frankie Frisch's sluggers with two hits.

The man who wasn't good enough for the Yankees, Tigers, Athletics and Dodgers, out-pitched Paul (No-Hit) Dean and Wild Bill Hallahan, who allowed the Pirates six safeties. Hoyt came home with the first Pirates run in the third inning. He obtained a walk from "Daffy" Dean and scored on Jensen's single. Two more Pirates tallies were scored in the sixth when Floyd Vaughan made a home run with Paul Waner aboard.

ONLY SINGLES. The only hits the Red Birds garnered off Hoyt were singles by Rothrock and Wally Horn. The Cards won the Cards' fifth defeat in their 21 games.

Meanwhile at New York the Phillies won their second straight contest from the Giants, 4 to 3. The champions, 18 to 8, and won in the ninth when, with the bases loaded, Sylvester Johnson scored on a passed ball. The Giants filled the bags in their half of the ninth, but the rally died when Jackson fouled to Camilli, ending the game.

Euel Moore and Johnson bested three Chicago flingers in the mop-up: Hal Schumacher, Carl Hubbell and ancient Adolfo Luque. George Davis made four hits in five attempts for the Cardinals, including a home run and a double. He collected three hits. Mancuso headed the unsuccessful Giant attack with two home runs, one in the fifth and one in the seventh with Wally Horn aboard.

THRILLING. With the fate of the National league pennant at stake, the contests provided one of the most thrilling high spots of the 1934 major league season. After the Cardinals lost to the Phillies, the Cards had their splendid opportunity of taking over the league lead for the first time since June 6. They were at the top from May 28 to June 6, the only time during the season.

Only twice before have National flag races presented such a hectic situation in the final week. They occurred in 1908 and 1916. In 1908 the Chicago Cubs and Giants ran a dead heat, except for a game which the Cubs protested because Merkle made an error. The Cardinals placed off the protested game, and the Cubs won, taking the pennant. In 1928, the Cards smashed through in the final week by two games over the Giants.

No official tie ever has been played off in the circuit, although the National league constitution provides for the tie-game series to decide a final deadlock. If one results this time, the league's board of directors will decide the site or sites for the series on Friday. The board consists of Judge Emil Fuchs, Boston; Charles A. Stoneham, New York; William Bensawanger, Pittsburgh; and William Walker, St. Louis.

Editors' Comment On Johnson's Step

Newspaper editorial comment on the resignation of Hugh S. Johnson as NRA administrator follows:

Philadelphia Inquirer: Business and industry, sorely perplexed, want a definite declaration of reassurance from the White House. They are entitled to it.

Springfield (Mass.) Republican: When all has been said in criticism or support of the NRA, the question remains: General Johnson's achievement, whether one likes it or not, bulks big in this country today.

New York World-Telegram: General Johnson is out. It is better so. The NRA recently has been going to pieces. Reorganization is needed and new blood is required.

New York Sun: There are indications that the nation's business is growing increasingly restive under managed economy. At all events, the NRA is to be reorganized apparently with the boss cracker-dinner sitting somewhere out in the cold.

New York Post: General Johnson's resignation from NRA will startle no one. His position was untenable. He had to leave sooner or later. Now that Johnson is out there should be a second reorganization of NRA and the NRA should take the form of abolition of the entire code structure, retaining only minimum wages, maximum hours and child labor protection features.

St. Louis Post-Dispatch: The problem of reorganizing the NRA will be greatly simplified by the decision of General Hugh S. Johnson to step down from his leadership. For some time it had been evident that he had outlived his usefulness in his post as NRA administrator.

Washington Evening Star: More important than the retirement of the general is the reorganization of the national recovery administration. What is to be its director? Will it mean more or less interference and control of private business by the federal government? The government in business and that is not a pretty picture, nor does it make for real freedom. On the contrary, it means special privilege of a rather low variety.

Kansas City Star: In the disappearance of General Hugh S. Johnson from public life the administration loses its most picturesque personality and its most powerful conservative influence; an influence, however, that whether willingly or not had become committed to a fundamental policy that has been reeling in recovery.

Oklahoma City Times: We haven't heard the suggestion of the name of a single American who could do the job Hugh Johnson did, when he was called upon in the emergency to do it. His biggest mistake was that he stayed too long.

AMAZON BEETLES SPREADING ALARM IN NEW YORK STATE

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 26.—(AP)—A dangerous spread in northern New York of big beetles, which are true amazons, not only in the whole race, was announced today at the Cornell University department of entomology.

They reproduce by parthenogenesis, without existence of males. They are half-inch long snout beetles, which have been a major crop pest in Europe, and have wiped alfalfa fields clean of a single stalk.

The beetles were first noticed in America two years ago near Oswego, N. Y., but two weeks ago two new swarms were discovered, about 50 miles distant, at Sackett's Harbor on the shore of Lake Erie.

The spread threatens several million dollars' damage even in its present small stage.

Crash Kills Floridian

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Marion C. Maddox Jr., 22, mechanic, died today shortly after his automobile collided with another machine on the county roadway. The driver of the other car, who overtook, has not been apprehended. Maddox came here 12 years ago from Oklahoma.

Cross Sections of Life In Gate City of South

Capitol View Woman's Club will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at the clubrooms.

Tubby Walton, genial champion of Atlanta sandlot baseball, will be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Atlanta Masonic Club at 8:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at Rich's tea room. Frank A. Doughman, program chairman, announced.

Dr. Enoch Frye Bell, of Boston, editorial secretary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, will speak before the regional committee meeting of the commission on missions of the Congregational and Christian churches which will be held in Atlanta October 9 and 10 at the Central Congregational church.

Approximately 900 students have enrolled at the Atlanta Opportunity school, exceeding by more than 200 the number enrolled for study of the principal speaker at 12 o'clock today. In addition to the regular day programs, the school offers classes in electricity, radio, sheet metal, air conditioning and lettering for men employed in the respective fields.

Atlanta League for Hard of Hearing will meet at 7:30 o'clock Friday night in the clubroom of the Y. W. C. A. on Auburn avenue to hear an address by Tarleton Collier, newspaper columnist.

Major Harry L. Burns, regional executive assistant of the federal housing administration, will be the principal speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the roof garden of the Atlanta hotel. He will outline details of the federal housing act and all interested in the federal housing campaign being conducted in Atlanta are invited.

David Harwell has been elected president of the Tech High school glee club for this year, it was announced Wednesday. Other officers named were Eddie Pittman, vice president; Paul Segars, secretary and treasurer; Jack Hinton, publicity; and Cecil Black, Dan Wilson, Roy Eubanks and Wilmer Wall, club leaders.

Guy C. Lunsford, grand master of Georgia Free and Accepted Masons, will speak at the regular communication of the Atlanta lodge, No. 59, F. & A. M., at 7:30 o'clock tonight. W. J. Helton and orchestra will furnish music.

J. G. Hale was elected president of the Men's Fellowship Club of the Gordon Street Baptist church, it was announced Wednesday. Officers are: P. A. Miller, vice president; H. H. Morton, secretary; and Leon May, treasurer. Dr. W. H. Faust installed the officers.

Georgia and six other southeastern states will be represented by L. J. Hollenbach, of Louisville, Ky., at the state stabilizing conference on liquor, liquor and beer in Chicago on October 15 to 19. Hollenbach is the code authority and chairman of the regional board which includes Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky. The price conference will be held in conjunction with the Wine, Liquor and Beer World's Fair, at the Hotel Sherman.

Judge E. L. Rainey, chairman of the state prison commission, said that requisition papers would be requested for the return of Charles Lloyd, negro, who escaped from the Troup county chain gang and has been arrested in New Jersey. Prison records show that the negro escaped in 1919 after serving three years of a 10-year sentence imposed following his conviction on a charge of burglary.

After 15 minutes' deliberation a jury in Fulton superior court Wednesday acquitted Mrs. Catherine B. Williamson on charges of larceny of furniture and fixtures from a residence leased from Mrs. Eugene Manston. It was brought out that fixtures were removed from the house by a real estate concern for repairs and were not returned when it was found they could not be repaired.

Two negro bandits robbed the King grocery store at 300 Lavton street, S. W., of $40 in cash Wednesday night. L. King, the proprietor, told police he was alone in the building when the two armed negroes entered and forced him to open the cash register.

PHILIPPINES PLANNING ANTI-JAPANESE TARIFF

MANILA, P. I., Sept. 26.—(AP)—A tariff bill raising rates to protect Philippine-American commerce was approved today by the insular cabinet. It was expected to be submitted to the legislature in a few days.

The proposals have drawn criticism from Japanese interests and are being considered by departments of the United States government to determine their probable effect on trade and international relations.
